A SINGULAR EXPERIENCE—GYMNASTICS—PURCELL AND CLEVELAND.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.)

Rochester, Sept. 26.—Harry T. Rowland is the son of a widow who resides with Dr. Swift, the astronomer at the Warner Observatory, and is well known in social circles here. About two weeks ago he went upon the road as travelling salesman for a Rochester manufacturing firm. His first stop was in Ithaca, at the Wykoff House. Next morning he mysteriously disappeared, leaving all his effects at the hotel. Search was made by detectives and friends, but nothing was heard from him until last evening, when his mother received a letter from her son at Chicago, in which he relates a remarkable story. He says that when he awoke at Elmira on September 9, he had a peculiar sensation in his head and his mind troubled him. He strolled toward the depot, and aimlessly boarded a freight train bound for the West. He remembers wandering about through Ohio and Indiana in a dazed condition, and often going days without food. He remembers wandering into Illinois, and of kind people caring for him. On Sunday he recollects lying down in a grove between Indianapolis and Chicago and falling asleep. When he awoke the peculiar sensation in his head had disappeared. His mind was clear again, and he could think distinctly. He then recollects vaguely the past two weeks. His head and neck were at a loss to account for his aberration of mind. Many believe he has been in a trance all the while. Steps will be taken at once to have the young man brought home and an investigation made.

The air has been full of rumors this week to the effect that a reconciliation has been brought about between Governor Cleveland and William Purcell, of the Rochester Union, and that the latter would in the near future issue a card giving his hearty support to Cleveland.

It is reported to-day that Miss Bertha Wagner, daughter of a prominent physician, Dr. George Wagner, eloped with a young man, Frederick Manning, on Wednesday evening. They had been acquainted but a few days, and it was evidently a case of instantaneous and mutual infatuation. Little is known of Manning.

John Mellin, who acted as instructor for the Rochester Athletic Association, lost present labor at work upon a scheme leading toward the organization of a girls' district gymnasium for ladies and children, as well as for gentlemen. Mr. Mellin has had much experience in athletic exercises of all kinds, and was for many years teacher of boxing at Harvard College.

After searching several days, Detectives Hayden and McNamee yesterday arrested Adelbert Dougé, a good-looking young man, on a telegraphic tip from Binghamton. According to his story he escaped from Binghamton a month ago with Mary Meier, the wife of his brother-in-law. He left a wife and four children behind, and may yet find a husband and two children.

The political campaign was begun in earnest during the past week, with a steady increase every day. The political battles have been fought in the various towns and cities throughout the state. The election is to be held on October 1, and the result will be known in the middle of the month.

Professor D. W. Valentine, the distinguished astronomer of the Carlisle Observatory, has been in town, the guest of Professor Lewis Dens, of the Dudley Observatory. The two men have been in close touch, and it is evident a case of instantaneous and mutual infatuation. Little is known of Valentine.

A report which originated in Buffalo some time ago that Dr. Clark McNamee, the Editor of the Albany Times, would become nominated for the Assembly after the election, is emphatically denied to be true. The statement is distinctly made that there never has been any communication in regard to the report, which appears to have been started for the purpose of spreading against McNamee. In the task of providing against a political rival in the organization, which endangered his profitable position, Dr. Clark McNamee has proposed that the services of Dr. Clark McNamee should exert an influence in the nomination of the road people. In the view of their interests, it was strongly insisted that McNamee should be chosen, when the ballot was to be held on October 1, and November 1, for the election of assemblymen.

In the view of the leaders of residents, Democratic candidates have been nominated for the election of assemblymen, and the election will be held on October 1, and November 1, for the election of assemblymen.

At the meeting of the Rochester Athlone Club, held yesterday afternoon, it was decided to postpone the election of assemblymen, and the election will be held on October 1, and November 1, for the election of assemblymen.
